

16th International DOCOMOMO Conference 2020 (DOCOMOMO2020)

COVID-19 Statement (1)

In light of the pandemic COVID-19 situation declared by the World Health Organisation (WHO), DOCOMOMO International and the Japan conference board of the DOCOMOMO2020 are monitoring the situation in what regards the future of the conference scheduled for September 2020 in Tokyo (<https://docomomo2020.com>). For now, the Japan conference board decided to hold the conference as originally planned with extreme caution and care. However, as this is a rapidly and drastically-evolving situation, DOCOMOMO International and the Japan conference board will continue to monitor the situation with a global perspective, following the advice of the World Health Organisation and the requirements of the Japanese Government.

Regardless the decision that may be taken, we want to ensure the Conference Proceedings. In order to don't compromise its smooth edition, please keep respecting the paper deadline schedule by submitting the final version of your paper by 20 April.

Thank you very much for your kind support so far. We will do everything we can to deal with the situation, placing health and safety of DOCOMOMO2020 delegates at the forefront of our decision-making. We appreciate your patience and understanding, and let us keep together in solidarity.
